RICH AGRICULTURAL LANDS.

Wine and Corn Galore—Paying Industries Which Establish the Value of Our Lands.

Yesterday a member of the HERALD'S staff had occasion to visit Downey City. As his business required but little time to transact, and as he had to wait several hours for the afternoon train from Santa Ana by which to return to the city, he took the fine opportunity offered to get a little data about the place. And when you want to know about the resources of a town, where do you go but to the railroad station and get the shipments of produce and the receipts of merchandise? If you know that the agent at such a town is Mr. J. K. Banks, or any man of his intelligence and courtesy you go all the more confidently that you will get what you want, get it in good shape, and get it without any trouble. Finding Mr. Banks in the office, the newshunter made known his desires and at once was furnished with the following exhibit of the business done by the Southern Pacific Company at that point during a period of six months as follows:

Here is a grand total of 6,624,935 pounds of produce shipped from Downey City in six months. That is at the rate of 13,259,950 pounds for a year. The receipts of merchandise aggregate 7,991,105 pounds.

RICH RESOURCES.

But elaborate as the above statement is half its force is lost unless the reader observes intelligently what a large part of the produce consists of. There are three wineries in Downey. These crushed 2,560 tons of grapes last year. The average output of wine is 150 gallons to the ton of grapes. Here is no less than 384,000 gallons of the precious juices of the generous grape. Sound wines are worth 18 cents per gallon. The value then of the grape crop of Downey is nearly $70,000. How many Western wheat farmers will it take on the average to pocket a gross sum of $70,000 for a single crop of one year? But the story is still left half told. A large part of this wine was distilled into brandy. By this means another increment of value was added to the product, so that in all certainty Downey people got in all not less than $100,000 for their grape crop of the year 1887.

How much an acre will grape-growing return to the grower? Seven tons to the acre is a fair average. At 150 gallons to the ton we get 1050 gallons to the acre. At 18 cents a gallon there is an income of $189 per acre. But do the wine-growers get this? Yes they do, if they are enterprising and as intelligent as those about Downey City. These vignerons have a co-operative winery. They crush their own grapes and make their own wine. More than this they do their own distilling. In this way they make $200 an acre profit from this princely industry.

Nor has the count yet exhausted the riches of Downey City. Besides the products of their vineyards, the people of this fertile section shipped away no less than twenty carloads of walnuts. The aggregate was 400,000 pounds. The return in cash was over $30,000. A good walnut orchard will pay interest—big interest on $1,500 an acre.

Has Downey City anything more to boast of in the way of crop? Well, yes—a little. There are now in the warehouse at that place 100 carloads of last year's corn. This means 1,000 tons of corn, and in centals it numbers 20,000. The corn is worth $25,000. This is merely the fag end of the crop which has been carried over from last autumn. It is only a fraction of the crops grown on these rich lands. Many a Downey farmer harvests $50 worth of corn to the acre. On these same lands the farmers cut six crops of alfalfa a year. The output is not less than two tons to the acre per crop, or twelve tons per year. It is worth $10 per ton—a snug income of $60 per acre.

NEVER HAD A BOOM!

Poor Downey! She never had a boom—and she is not likely to have. When other people were breaking their necks to sell land to the tenderfeet, the Downeyites would not sell at any price offered. They saw prices go up to $25 an acre with perfect composure. The values got to $50 an acre, the Downey people went on planting vines and walnut trees, growing pumpkins and potatoes in the even tenor of their way. Others wondered when lands got to sell for $100 an acre, but the solid people of Downey were not staggered. The prices rose to $200, still the farmers along the damplands went on pocketing that much per year per acre, and would not sell their farms. They are not selling yet. They will not sell much for sometime to come. These lands will in no long time be worth $500 per acre in their natural state. With vines and trees they will be worth twice, three times and four times that figure.

WHAT DOWNEY HAS.

There are about 700 people within a mile of the postoffice at Downey City. There are four, perhaps six times as many more in the immediate vicinity. There are churches, schools, a bank, stores and such like concomitants of a flourishing neighborhood. The Southern Pacific Company has recently built here one of the prettiest depots in the State. It is 206 feet long by 46 feet wide. It has a large freight room, waiting room, baggage room, etc. It is in charge of Mr. J. K. Banks, a most courteous and efficient official.

One of Downey's latest acquisitions is a big Democratic club. There are 100 voters on the roll. When the Steve White welcome-home takes place they will all be in the city in uniform, with torches, banners and transparencies, and they will whoop it up in great style for Cleveland and reform, for Thurman and the old bandana, and for Steve White and the St. Louis Convention. Keep your eye on Downey. The Nation is going to hear of it politically and materially. Downey is all right!

SUCCESSFULLY ORGANIZED.

The Cleveland and Thurman Democratic Club.

The Cleveland and Thurman Democratic Club held its first meeting last evening in Justice Austin's court-room. General J. R. Mathews called the meeting to order about 8 o'clock, at which time over a hundred prominent citizens were present. General Mathews stated that the object of the meeting was to form a business men's club to participate in parades and other demonstrations of a National character. General J. R. Mathews was elected temporary chairman and J. W. Swanwick temporary secretary. Upon motion of Mr. J. D. Bethune the following were appointed as a committee on permanent organization. Messrs. Bethune, Howard, Ward, Beck, McKee and Du Puy. During the five minutes allowed the committee Judge Bearden, Major W. R. Burke and Mayor W. H. Workman entertained the club with remarks upon the issues of the day.

The committee then reported recommending that the club be called the Cleveland and Thurman Club of Los Angeles City; that the following be elected officers of the club: President, General J. R. Mathews, Vice Presidents, Mayor W. H. Workman, H. Newmark, W. Pridham, I. W. Hellman, A. M. Stephens, W. R. Burke, T. E. Rowan, J. I. Redick, J. R. Humphreys and Charles Northcraft; Secretary, J. W. The committee also recommended that the members of the club always respond promptly to the call of the President. The report of the committee was adopted as read. Mr. Shirley C. Ward was elected a committee of one to procure literature on the tariff question. Judge Howard moved that the HERALD be requested to publish the list of members, and that each one cut the list out for future reference. Carried.

REPORTORIAL DASH.

A Dastardly Plot Discovered In Time.

A POLITICAL CHALLENGE.

Installation of Germania Lodge. The Athletic Club Election.

A damnable plot to destroy much valuable property, and in all probability human life, was that accidentally discovered yesterday afternoon by a man named Burt, proprietor of a little fruit store on the west side of Main street, four houses from the corner of Washington street.

Recently three new stores have been built at the point indicated. A saloon, drug store and Burt's fruit store occupy the premises. In the rear of Burt's store he has had erected a little frame stable and therein has been wont to house his valuable horse, wagon and different articles of merchandise, boxes and the like.

Fearful that a fire might occur on his premises on the Fourth, Burt removed his horse and wagon on the previous night to a stable up street. After the Fourth Burt concluded to move his rig back. Pending doing so he proceeded to thoroughly clean out the stable, commencing this work at a little after three o'clock yesterday afternoon. When he started in to clean out the manger in the single stall of his stable, Burt was surprised to find a can stowed away underneath the feed-box. He lifted out the can and was startled to find a piece of fuse hanging from its side. Burt carefully opened the lid of the can and found it filled nearly to the brim with giant powder. The can contained fully three pounds of the terrible explosive. He carefully placed the can and fuse back where he had found them and then notified Police Head quarters.

Chief Cuddy despatched Officers O'Brien and Luis Arnaz to the scene. The Main street beat is partrolled by Officer Dunne. When O'Brien and Arnaz reached Burt's place they found the can and fuse just as Burt had left it. They determined to lie in wait for the would-be anarchist, and telling Dunne to keep away from Burt's premises, they concealed themselves. Much to the chagrin of the officers they found that Dunne persisted in hovering about the place. They waited until past mid-night and then, assumeing that the guilty party had noted Dunn's appearance and fled, they returned to the Police Station, bringing with them the fuse. The can of powder they stored away at the fruit store.

Questioned regarding who might have placed the deadly stuff where it was found, Burt said he could not even imagine. He knew of no man who was his enemy. His business had prospered, and he said he had reason to believe he was a popular tradesman with the neighborhood. His horse and wagon he estimated worth $350.

Had the fiend who placed the terrible explosive there, been able, undetected to ignite it, a calamity the awful result of which can be far better imagined than described must needs have followed. Chief Cuddy says he is determined to sift the matter to the bottom, and to-day detectives will go to work on the case.

THE RAILROADS.

Receipt Comparisons Between 1888 and 1887.

A 76 PER CENT. INCREASE.

Changes to be Made in the Southern Pacific's Time-schedule on the 8th Inst.

One of the best indications of a city's prosperity is the business done by the railroads that centre in her midst, and with a view to obtaining some idea of the present traffic situation, a HERALD reporter called yesterday afternoon on General Freight and Passenger Agent Sayler, of the Southern Pacific. In reply to an interrogation, that gentleman replied: "The total cash receipts for freight and passenger business in this city for the six months of the present year show an increase of seventy-six per cent. over the receipts for the corresponding period in 1888. Business is certainly light at present, but it is far ahead what it was this time last year. There are certain seasonable changes which invariably come, for instance June is always a lighter month than May and July is also noted for not particularly heavy business, but these events are always expected in railroad circles. Traffic will not pick up to amount to anything before August, but from that time on business will pour in as fast as we can handle it, that is, judging by the precedents furnished by previous years. The present month has started out well, as we have received and handled more freight to-day than for some time past. Passenger travel is very good, especially on the local lines; on the overland business the travel is now rather into the State than out of it, as last season's excursionists have all departed for their homes."

Inquiries at the Santa Fe offices elicited the facts that the receipts by that company were also far above those of the the preceding year, and the local line business was also said to be holding up very well.

FREIGHT RATES.

Latest Edict of the Transcontinental Association.

New rate sheets have been issued by the Transcontinental Association, giving rates on East-bound shipments. The following are the announcements made: Canned goods to all Eastern points $1.10; oranges and lemons, by passenger train service to Missouri river points $1.90, to Mississippi river points $2.05, to Chicago $2.15, by freight service $1, $1.10 and $1.15; potatoes to all points 85 cents. Fish or vegetables in straight or carloads by passenger service $2.50 to Chicago; ostriches (valuation not to exceed $2000 per car) by passenger service to Missouri River $1.90, by freight, $1.55; frozen poultry in refrigerator cars, to Missouri River points, $1.90, to Mississippi River, $1.90, to Chicago $2; sugar 65 cents. Missouri River rates will hereafter apply on carload shipments of green fruit to Montana points on either freight or passenger trains.

A CHANGE OF TIME-CARD.

Important Alterations by the S. P. Company.

The new time-card over the Southern Pacific will go into effect on the 8th inst., and the HERALD hastens to give its readers information of the changes that are to be made affecting this city.

Train No. 19, the overland east-bound express, will arrive at the same time, but will leave at 7:40 P. M., instead of at 8 P. M. as heretofore. No other changes are made in the overland service.

The Banning local will leave at 4:85 P. M. instead of at 4:25 P. M. as at present, and will arrive at 9:20 A. M. instead of 9:25 A. M.

The Colton local will leave at 9 A. M. instead of 8:30 A. M., and will arrive at 4.30 P. M. instead of 4 P. M.

EXCURSION NOTES.

Departure and Arrival of a Number of Tourists.

A Burlington excursion of five carloads, recruited from all parts of Southern California by Messrs. Quigley and Scott, the hard-working and popular representatives of the C., B. & Q., left the city last night for all points East.

A Warner's excursion also started, and is running behind Mr. Walker's tourist party to Chicago, which left the night before.

The regular Sunset excursion from Boston and other Eastern cities will arrive in town on Sunday morning.

An Important Meeting.

To-day's proceedings at the Transcontinental Association Convention at St. Paul will be very important, as the question of classification is to be decided. The westbound and the transcontinental tariffs at present differ on a good many points and the proposition to make them uniform is favorably considered by the Pacific Roads. The shippers however are averse to any change and are raising many objections to the proposed alterations, but the indications are that the uniform standard will be established. This will make the east and westbound classifications the same and save a good deal of trouble to the clearing houses.

Pullman Passengers.

By the 12:45 P. M. train—Jas. Kimball, Mr. Casson, M. C. Pemberton, C. C. Boise, G. F. McKenna, A. McHatton, L. K. Palmer, I. Harker, Mr. Forman, Miss A. Boneck, C. E. Pemberton, Miss Watkins, S. Scott, Mrs. Reed, A. Stough, G. W. Bennett, Mr. Scott, J. D. Hooker, Mrs. Wisner, Miss Burke, Master Stone, T. H. Wadsworth, S. Nordlinger, Mrs. Hibbie, C. Condemos, May Rogers.

By the 9:30 P. M. train—G. Cobline, Mr. Blenner, Mr. Brown, G. M. Stotch, A. L. Mixer, Mrs. Rubrow, J. Levy, M. C. Flynn, Mrs. Keelsey, T. J. Gath, E. S. Field.

Advertising California.

The Union Pacific people are getting up a pamphlet descriptive of Southern California for distribution in the East. A good deal of space is being devoted to Los Angeles and full information will be given regarding all the hotels, theaters, public buildings, street car service and other matters of general interest. Information relating to other southern cities will also be supplied and the document will prove most interesting and useful to intending travelers to the coast. It will be in the press in a week or ten days.

A Change of Management.

It was stated by a railroad official in town yesterday that Mr. A. Manvel, General Manager of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Road, intends to resign, and will be offered the position of Vice-President and General Manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. The change on the Burlington system is said to be an outcome of the recent strike of engineers on that road.

A New Line Started.

The Pacific Improvement Company's outfit which has been engaged in building the new line between Polhemus and Tustin, has entirely completed its labors there. The teams, horses, oxen and working apparatus were accordingly brought up to town yesterday and at once left for Cucamonga to start work on the new branch to the Declez quarry. This is but a short line and will therefore be finished in a few days.

General Gleanings.

The Berkeley double track will be completed in a day or two.

Twenty thousand shares of the Santa Fe system are said to be held in London, England.

Colonel A. B. Hotchkiss, attorney for the Southern Pacific, is passing a few days at Santa Monica.

One of the newly-painted baggage coaches has been put on the Santa Monica run and is a very handsome vehicle.

The trains from Santa Barbara were laden down yesterday with excursionists returning from O. R. C. festivities at that place.

The number of pieces of baggage handled in the baggage-room of the Southern Pacific depot on San Fernando street last month was 15,719.

The freight and passenger agency which the Atlantic and Pacific has established at San Jose is a success, and other roads will probably follow the example set.

Trainmaster Thompson returned from Santa Barbara on the first excursion train yesterday morning. He says the jaunt was a pleasant one and his beaming face carries out that assertion.

The rails for the Monrovia Rapid Transit Road have been heard from, and will be here in a day or two. They will be at once laid down between Ramona and the Mission Road, as the grading is all done.

ARRIVALS.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

The Sixth Street Park Not to Be Used for a Camp.

Preparations for the visit of the Sovereign Grand Lodge in September next are being actively made by the committee in charge, and it is now certain that the occasion will be one which the citizens and visitors will long remember. It is estimated that there will be not less than 30,000 visitors in the city during the week mentioned, and rooms are being engaged now for some of the Odd Fellows who expect to come.

Mr. Eugene Germain, one of the committee of arrangements, stated yesterday that it was not the intention to use the Sixth Street Park for camping purposes. The Pavilion has been secured for the headquarters of the military division, and the block known as the St. Vincent property will be used for the camp. The Sixth Street Park will be used merely as a promenade ground, and in the evening concerts will be given at the band stand. There need be no fear under these circumstances that the Park will be injured in the least.

A SMALL BLAZE.

Hoodlum Celebration Outside the Postoffice.

About midnight on the Fourth, W. Liebes & Co's cigar store on Spring street, narrowly escaped destruction by fire. A fire-cracker thrown on the awning ignited it, and in a few minutes the whole sheet of canvas was in flames. The fire department soon appeared on the scene, however, and extinguished the blaze. A number of drunken brawlers made things obnoxious in that part of the town all day, and an extra force of police stationed there could scarcely keep order. The riot culminated in the evening, when one individual of cowboy propensities drew a 44 and discharged several shots, two of the bullets passing through the portico of Liebes' store. This scattered the crowd, and taking advantage of the excitement which followed, the disturber of the peace succeeded in escaping from the clutches of the law.

The City Assessment.

City Assessor Stephenson has turned over to the City Auditor Teed the assessment rolls for the present fiscal year. The books have not yet been footed up but it is stated that the total amount has been considerably increased. Mr. Stephenson states that the books are in better order this year than they were last and that the City Tax Collector will have less trouble in making out his bills than was the case last year. The City Council will convene shortly as a Board of Equalization.

For San Diego.

The City of Pueblo sailed south for San Diego yesterday with the following passengers: R. W. Pierce, E. F. Pierce, M. Schmidt, Mrs. W. McDonald, John Mayo, Mrs. C. B. Carpenter, J. J. Friedlander, Miss I. C. Moore, W. A. Woods, H. Nelson, C. F. Bedell and wife, and seven in the steerage.

A WOMAN'S JUMP.

Mrs. Van Tassell Lands Safely on the Earth.

Possibly the hundreds of people in town who noted with surprise the presence of Professor Van Tassell's balloon in the air fully three hours ahead of the time advertised for its ascension will be surprised to learn that Van Tassell kept his contract to the letter in all but the time of the ascension. Van Tassell, accompanied by his pretty wife and D. E. Barclay, Deputy County Recorder of this county, did go up in the balloon, and Mrs. Van Tassell did perform the daring feat of decending to the earth from a distance of nearly 4000 feet, with the aid of a skeleton-like parachute. It was not believed on Wednesday that this had been done, and until some authoritative statement could be obtained the HERALD refrained from publishing an account of the voyage.

As advertised, Van Tassell, his consort and a male companion, were to seek a higher altitude in a balloon, from the corner of Los Angeles and Aliso streets, at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Somebody, considering death in store for Mrs. Van Tassell should she leap from the balloon attached to a parachute, addressed a message to Chief of Police Cuddy asking that he prohibit Mrs. Van Tassell from doing so. The Chief took the writer's view of the matter and ordered Detective Tom McCarthy to be on hand at the time appointed for the ascension and unless Mrs. Van Tassell gave her word of honor not to make the leap, to prohibit her from going up in the balloon. The hardy aeronaut and his wife heard of what the Chief was going to do, and they decided to get heavenward with all possible speed. Already the huge gas bag was well inflated, the register showing that close on to 200,000 feet of gas was in the balloon. Bags of sand served as anchors to stay the balloon from flying upward and numerous guy ropes served as auxiliaries in the same direction. All but the guy ropes were cast loose from the balloon, and then Mr. Barclay was sent for. Mr. Barclay is an amateur aeronaut of considerable experience. He has made several ascensions, one with Van Tassell, from this city two years ago. Barclay was found by the messenger and told to repair, as speedily as possible, to the scene of the ascension. He did so, and had just time to pull on his overcoat and jump into the cage, in which were seated Van Tassell and his wife. The balloon was then held to earth by but one rope. Van Tassell gave the order to an assistant to "cut her loose." In a moment the balloon shot heavenward, attaining at the initial jump an altitude of nearly 2,000 feet. It was just at 10:47 o'clock that the huge gas-bag darted heavenward from terra firma.

The voyage in the air is probably best told by Mr. Barclay. He was seen after the ascension by a HERALD man. Describing the ascent, voyage in mid-air and return to earth, Mr. Barclay said: "The balloon contained about 250,000 feet of gas when we started up. Incident to an ascension is an upward jump of the balloon immediately it is cut loose from its moorings. The jump of our balloon was a memerable one. It carried us to an altitude of about 2,000 feet. Professor Van Tassel, Mrs. Van Tassel and myself were in the cage. When we had attained that altitude we found no clearly defined current of air. A calm, so to speak, was prevalent. Our height, we all agreed, was not sufficient to admit of the parachute jump being made with safety. Our ballast consisted of several bags of sand and numerous bundles of papers, dodgers, etc. Some ballast was tossed out, but we finally decided to release some gas. This we did and came to within about 1000 feet of earth when a good wind current was struck. We shut off the gas valve and rode with the current, taking a gradually upward course until we were about over, or a little to one side of the Jefferies place, and near the Arroyo Seco. At that time, I shall judge we were 5000 feet in the air.

"Van Tassell all along was extremely wary. Every moment he would glance up at the parachute we carried, swung from the cage. The 'chute, as he called it, seemed all right. Finally he said he guessed the time had come for the leap. Mrs. Van Tassell was cool and collected. Van Tassell pulled the 'chute down into the cage. The parachute is shaped much like an umbrella, and just about twenty feet in diameter at its mouth. Pendant from it are two ropes, provided with hand rings at their ends. To these rings Mrs. Van Tassell's hands were strapped. Also pendant from the center of the apex of the corner of the now inflated chute is a rope. About Mrs. Van Tassell's waist we fixed a stout strap in circingle, and the end of this we attached to this rope. All was ready, Van Tassell bade his wife good-by, and so did I. She was cool as an iceberg as Van Tassell cleared the parachute from its moorings. She stepped on the edge of the cage, looked down once and then then stepped off into space. We shot heavenward at once, a distance of about 500 feet. "Van" was so nervous he crouched in a corner of the cage. I peeped down and saw the parachute dashing toward the earth like a rocket. My heart was in my mouth for a moment, but when I saw the old "chute" fill out and sail downward at an easy gait I knew that the first parachute descent in the world by a woman was a complete success.

"Van Tassell had arranged with his wife that should she reach the earth in safety, she was to hail him by waving her handkerchief. As soon as we could collect ourselves, Van Tassell told me to pull the valve cord. This cord, when pulled, releases the valve, or plug, holding the gas in the balloon. I pulled it with a will and we were soon descending at a fearful rate. I tried then to release the valve but failed, and it looked as if we were going to get the worst of it until we got within about 300 feet of the ground. We were tossing out all the ballast left, when the balloon lightened a little. When the cage was within about ten feet of the earth, we both leaped out and landed in safety, As we carried no grapples or anchor we had to let the balloon go scooting over the ground.

"We made our way at once to Mrs. Van Tassell and found her standing on a sandy heap. About her had gathered a half a hundred people, among them being Messrs. J. D. Yoakum, Shumway, Jeffries, Poor, Smith and others of Pasadena. Mr. Smith and Mr. Shumway had already released Mrs. Van Tassell from the 'chute. She was a little bit jarred but not injured in the least.

"All of us shook hands. Mrs. Van Tassell said the 'chute did not work until she had fallen 200 or 300 feet, she thought. Her descent was made easily and gradually. It was a grand feat and I think it but just to Mrs. Van Tassell to say that she was the coolest and bravest of the party of three. Mrs. Van Tassell reached the earth, I should judge, about a mile the other side of the wagon road bridge over the Arroyo Seco."

"How did Los Angeles look from above, Mr. Barclay?" asked the reporter.

"Great development was noticeable on every hand. I went up from here two years ago. The change in things seemed miraculous to me. We certainly have a beautiful town, especially if you look down upon it from a mile in the skies."

Yesterday Van Tassel went out to Pasadena to find his balloon. He found the huge affair collapsed, yet unharmed, near Pasadena. Mrs. Van Tassel was was the recipient throughout the day of a storm of congratulations from numerous admirers. Van Tassel and wife go from here to Seattle, where the lady will again make a descent in the 'chute.

The Yacht Race.

The following dispatch was received in the city from San Diego yesterday morning: "Yachts Aggie and Lurline arrived this morning. The Lurline won. The Aggie broke her topmast." Considerable excitement followed this announcement, as for the forty-eight hours preceding the dispatch, the Aggie was regarded as a certain winner, and several long-odd bets were made. As the Aggie was the favorite all through in this city, considerable money will change hands on settling day.

The Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors held a short session yesterday. Captain Barrett presented a petition asking for a wharf franchise at San Pedro. Captain Thom on behalf of the Dominguez heir appeared and requested a delay of action. Supervisor Venable moved, and it was carried, that action be delayed until the 6th of August. In the meantime the Board will visit San Pedro and inspect the proposed wharf site. Captain Hillyer asked for a ferry franchise at San Pedro. The matter was laid over until August 6th.

THE TRACK.

Los Angeles' Advantages as Regards Fast Horses.

The sportsmen of Los Angeles are beginning to appreciate the advantages offered by our magnificent race-track for the development of speed in thoroughbred horses, and many are investing, or are on the point of so doing, in these lucrative and noble animals. Mr. Pete Dornalick, the well known horseman, intends to make his mark at the next meeting of the Los Angeles Association, and has purchased from J. B. Haggin, the Lord Falmouth of the American turf, three thoroughbreds who seem likely to sweep the board at our forthcoming meeting. The best looking of these, to my mind, is the three-year-old gelding Del, by Falsetto, out of Mattie Louvre, the latter by imported Blackbox. The others are two-year-olds, the one Ulpiano, a sorrel gelding with white stockings is by Jim Brown, out of Liza, the latter by the famous Norfolk. The other, Nacho B, is also a sorrel gelding, by Wanderer, out of Flower girl, the latter by imported Australian. So on his dam's side del boasts of some of the best blood of the English turf, including the famous Touchstone strain. Yesterday Del did his half mile in fifty seconds, and as he has only been up about two weeks, it is more than likely that Ed. McGinnis, the hitherto champion three-year-old of South California will have to look to his laurels.

BADLY BURNED.

A Newsboy Who Blew on an Ignited Fuse.

A newsboy named Johnny Simons, who vends his wares outside the Nadeau House, was severely burned yesterday morning. He had lit a large firecracker, but the fuse apparently went out. Johnny attempted to reglow the latent flame by blowing on it, and while he was so occupied the bomb exploded in his face. His eyebrows, eyelashes and hair were singed and his face badly scarred, and in addition to these injuries his hand was severely blistered. He was conveyed to an adjacent drug-store for medical treatment and, after his wounds were dressed, was told to go home at once. "I dare not do so," the little fellow replied, "I haven't sold out my papers and my father will beat me if I take them home instead of money." A police officer was directed to look after the affair, however, and Johnny was sent on the next car to his home on Temple street.

Cheaper Lumber.

It was stated yesterday that Architect Woods, who has in charge the improvements in the Grand Opera House and the building of the Burbank Theater has found a way to obtain lumber cheaper than it can be bought for here. It was stated that he had purchased the lumber for the Burbank Theater, delivered in San Diego for $16 per thousand. The freight from San Diego here amounts to $5 per thousand, and the saving by this method of purchase is $9 per thousand.

To Marry.

The following licenses to wed were issued yesterday by the County Clerk:

Wm. A. Hersey and Lizzie P. Shaw of Los Angeles.

Frank Lightfoot of Compton and Clara Gardner of Los Angeles.

James H. Enson and Laura R. Kennedy of Wilmington.

Harding-Elliott.

Cupid's dart has pierced the heart of the ex-Postmaster of Pasadena, E. R. Harding, and on Tuesday evening last he led the charming Miss Arta Elliott, of Santa Monica, to Hymen's altar, where the Rev. Dr. Warner, of the University M. E. Church, performed the ceremony at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. Day, of this city. The happy couple will spend the summer months at Santa Monica, after which a trip north is contemplated.

To Users of the Weed.

On Saturday next Baer and Newbauer, one of the most popular firms dealing in fine tobaccos and cigars, will open, with great eclat, their new store at 124 North Main Street, next the First National Bank. This firm did business at 3 Post Office Court. They cordially invite all old patrons and the public generally to participate in the opening of the new establishment. The senior member of the firm is a native Angeleño while his partner, Alex. Newbauer, is one of the best known and most popular of the city's business men.

TRACT,

CENTRAL AVENUE,

Between Eighth and Vejar Sts.

This beautiful tract, situated near the heart of the city, was cut up and thrown upon the market after the so-called big boom of last year had

"folded its tent like the Arab
And silently stolen away."

But owing to its splendid location, moderate prices and liberal terms it has enjoyed a healthy

BOOMLET

From the moment when it was first placed before the public. It is the general favorite among the many beautiful subdivisions of the City of the Angels, and nothing will be left undone by the owners to make the tract the most attractive residence property east of Figueroa street. When all the improvements now under way and in contemplation will have been completed, some future Wordsworth, standing at the corner of Eighth street and Central avenue, and seeing the beautiful young settlement of lovely homes on the Weill tract, and the grand old mountain range of the Sierra Madre looking down proudly upon it, may well exclaim:

"Earth has not anything to show more fair;
Dull would he be of soul, who could pass by
A sight so touching in its majesty."

Full particulars in regard to prices and terms of the Alexandre Weill Tract, can be obtained at the office of the undersigned, who will be most happy to give intending purchasers a free ride and show them the property.

Let Us Have Trade Processions.

No one who was in Los Angeles on the 4th of July will feel any hesitation in admitting the tremendous growth of this city in population. If there was one human being in our streets to witness the regulation procession, which, by the way, was itself very creditable, there were one hundred thousand. Of course the country districts contributed liberally to the display and to the throng of people. One quite notable feature of the turnout was the trade exposition, and it was so suggestive that we venture to make a suggestion which could be profitably acted upon. In St. Louis and other cities of the East these trade demonstrations are great attraction, and engender marked and wholesome rivalry. That they are the source of an immense influx of people from abroad cannot be doubted by any one who has ever been in St. Louis during the Fair time. From all sections of the Northwest and Southwest great multitudes flock to see these superb expositions of the trade and products of their section. Why should we not have them in Los Angeles, and why would not the Fair this fall be a good time to start them? Nothing would so completely show the progress which has been made in manufactures and industrial enterprises as a procession of the several trades in which the producer and merchant shall be represented equally with the manufacturer. We have in this city mercantile establishments which can scarcely be surpassed in the United States in the extent and variety of their stocks. One dealer would vie with another in the magnificence of his display. When one dry-goods merchant had arranged for a street exposition of his goods none of his rivals could afford to be unrepresented. So of the grocers and hardware and furniture dealers. All our foundries, machine shops and other industrial enterprises would strain a point not to be distanced.

Then the demonstration would be made specially interesting by the emulation of the different portions of the county. Downey would be on hand with her immense cornstalks, wines, corn and squashes, her English walnuts and other products of the temperate zone; Pomona, San Gabriel and a score of other places would also be there with their citrus fruits, wines, brandies, olives and innumerable other specialties. There should be a day procession and a night procession, the latter enlivened by plenty of calcium and electric lights. This would be an immense addition to the ordinary attractions of a fair. It would please and even astonish the strangers within our gates and would be an immense stimulus to our people.

Why not adopt this plan, and give new life and significance to our ordinary fairs? Such a new departure would do more to demonstrate our growth during the past lustrum than would a volume of letter press, however eloquently written. The printer's ink part of the programme ought by no means to be omitted. It is indeed, as to all purposes of bringing people to Southern California, the one supremely useful thing. But such a procession would show them, after the newspapers had done their work and got them within reach of conviction from ocular evidence, how varied and valuable are our products of the soil and how rapid has been the development of our industries. There would be money in this scheme for Southern California, and there would also be instruction without limit.

Let us inaugurate the St. Louis system. We may be sure that it will work well.

THE grandson of old Tippecanoe is not a great man, but there are signs about him that he aims to be a very cunning politician. Assisted by a lot of invalided old gentlemen who voted for Harrison in 1840, he was able to give himself a fine send-off at Indianapolis the other day. In a certain smooth and mellifluous eloquence he reminds one of old Pecksniff. He dwelt much upon the fact that the only inheritance the Harrisons could ever boast of was a good name, and he thus made a resonant bid on the poverty dodge. Now, it is perfectly true that the grandfather was a poor man, as was doubtless his son. That is not a question in issue. Nor is it material whether or no General Harrison is himself rich. He is understood to be pretty well accoutred with this world's goods, as is his right. The only thing which the American people are interested in knowing is whether General Harrison has been cheek-by-jowl with the capitalists in all their efforts to grind the face of the poor wage earner; and whether he has, as far as he could, so acted as to give Coolie labor a foothold in the United States. We have no manner of doubt that Old Tippecanoe was a poor man, or that he sympathized with honest poverty. On the other hand, considering the decisive majority by which Blue Jean Williams defeated Harrison for Governor of Indiana in 1876 by the aid of the Labor vote, we do not take much stock in Gen. Benjamin's velvet-voiced references to the poverty of the family. There is a good deal of Oily Gammon about the head of the Republican ticket. The year of grace 1840 was a very good one for the Harrison family. The Democratic party had been in power for twelve years, and Andrew Jackson's honest and patriotic efforts to dissociate the National treasury from a private banking institution endowed by the government with special privileges had resulted in the capitalists wreaking their vengeance on the people by a great panic. The remedy was a hard one, and the financial disasters which followed its application showed how necessary it was, but Martin Van Buren was the victim as Harrison was the beneficiary of its first effects. No such favorable conjuncture of circumstances awaits the grandson. He is confronted by four years of prosperity as the result of an honest and patriotic Democratic administration, and he will be made to realize the painful fact that heredity in political honors is not a feature of the American Republic. Not even his pathetic attempt to make the old Whig ghost walk will avail him in his hour of need. In the first place, it will refuse to walk. It is dead and desires to stay dead. In the second place the ghastly specter would be greeted with a howl of derision by the voters, who believe in the living present.

THE HERALD has heretofore noted the fact that Mr. Blaine, the great friend of labor, with his mouth, is now coaching through Scotland with Mr. Andrew Carnegie, the leading proprietor of the Edgar Thompson Steel Works, located near Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. Mr. Carnegie has just rejoined his friends after having precipitated a strike in that large institution, by which wages were materially reduced. Carnegie, like Blaine, likes the the Republican platform and is devoted to the success of Harrison and Morton. It was of Mr. Carnegie that Congressman Scott said:

"ONE of the members of the Edgar Thompson Steel Works, Limited, admitted to me within the past month, within two hundred feet of where I now stand, that a statement made by myself in the fall of 1886 was correct—namely, that he drew out of the company as dividends in one year the sum of $1,500,000, the equivalent of $5000 per day for 300 days in the year, and this was but one member of the firm, with no statements of the profits undivided. No intelligent business man will put the profits of this company at less than $5,000,000 in prosperous years, and we will allow them to employ 7,500 wage-workers. Mr. Scott referred to Carnegie, the man who 'likes' the Republican platform. The gentleman attempts to deny this statement, but he makes a sad mess of it. He denies that they drew the money out, but he admits that it was earned. He says that 'the money earned has mainly gone into new and improved works to develop still further the resources of this great Republic,' which is but a fine way of saying that it has gone to still further develop Mr. Andrew Carnegie's fat bank account. He tells us further that he gave away $1,500,000 to found three public libraries. Of course this came out of the Edgar Thompson Steel Works."

It is somewhat singular that the almost invariable incident of this high protection, which depresses business by keeping an enormous surplus in the Treasury at Washington, should keep the workingman prostrate at the feet of the employer class. Nor is it at all strange that these latter gentlemen raise a terrible howl about free trade when it is proposed to so adjust the tariff as to leave a hundred millions of dollars yearly in the channels of business, to give value to real estate and energize speculation and enterprise, all of which are the accompaniments of an abundant money market. The game is too shallow to win.

THERE is something very contemptible in the way the Republican press, and such Republican orators and bloviators as Governor Foraker, refer to President Cleveland personally, especially the references to his physique. That well poised official, however, seems to attach very little importance to the yawps of the envenomed but feeble crowd. At intervals, as in his letter to the Tammany Society on the Fourth, he re asserts, in a severe and dignified way, that devotion to the principles of popular Democratic government which has made him so strong with the people irrespective of party. His latest protest against the steadily accumulating surplus in the national treasury which marks the extent to which the consumer is being spoliated upon by the manufacturers will evoke an enthusiastic popular response. We want more money in circulation even if it should involve a slight reduction of the tax which the Pennsylvania iron barons, the Michigan and Oregon lumber barons, and the Massachusetts spinning barons exact from the people.

ACCORDING to a few gushing Republican orators at Indianapolis yesterday all the voters of the United States will vote for Harrison and Morton—the funeral urn and the bar'l. Mr. Harrison is being cruelly crammed with hopes whose fruition will never come—until all China gets here and votes for him.

NOT only does an abnormally high tariff compel a citizen of California to send out of this State two dollars for what would otherwise only cost him one, but, in addition, the very duties are sent away, thus enormously enhancing the drain of money from our fair commonwealth. That this is a very considerable sum, a single example will show. Last month the customs duties amounted to $900,000 at the port of San Francisco, or at the rate of nearly $11,000,000 a year. All this money is sent East, is taken out of the revenue of trade in California, and undoubtedly tends to make money very scarce. If the duties were lower the drain would be less, resulting both in activity in business and in a direct benefit to the consumer. A big howl about Free Trade will not change these facts.

BRAZEN effrontery, and nothing short of that, could have suggested to the Republican party to select "Old Glory" as a party emblem. That belongs to all of us. Belva Lockwood and even Dr. O'Donnell have a right to that in common with the rest of us. It is very doubtful if even O'Donnell, however, would put the stars and stripes to such base use as making a pocket handkerchief of it. It should be stuck by Democrats, and by all Americans of all names, in millions all over the land, as a protest against this usurpation on the part of the party which stole the Presidency and now wish to steal the flag.

THERE is no question that California as a whole is exceptionally prosperous this year, although there are portions of the State where the crops have been a failure. Never have there been better opportunities for the investment of money than now, and never has there been a movement of development and settlement more generally diffused or more intelligently directed than now. Even our mining industries show a splendid vitality. The promise of immigration from the East this coming fall, winter and spring has never been better, and the fact that prices are on an approved and conservative plane will undoubtedly lead to heavy Eastern investments.

A WOLVERINE statesman has cut out a big job for Jim Blaine. The Magnetic Dynamo who failed to get there is to speak in all the doubtful Republican States. That means all those commonwealths,—well except Kansas and Ohio. Mr. Blaine had better get back soon, or the summer will be too short. The Wolverine prophet had better get back to his own hole, or he will find it is too doubtfully his for him to give an unclouded title to it. Mr. Blaine has much to do if he makes Michigan safely Republican this year.

IT IS wonderful the ease and grace shown by the leaders of the Republican party in California in ignoring Gen. Harrison's Chinese record. There is nothing so monstrous that it cannot be swallowed by your genuine partizan. But while this is the case with the editors and orators the case is far different with the masses. These last resolutely decline to allow the wool to be drawn over their eyes. They insist upon holding the Republican nominees up to their avowed sentiments, and the defections from the grand old party are very numerous in consequence.

MR. ESTEE thinks all the Blaine Irish will vote for the sepulchral urn and the bar'l. Not by any means, will they. They say themselves that they will not—not by a large majority. Mr. Estee has not read an Irish mother's letter in the HERALD of to-day.

DOWNEY and Los Nietos valley are holding their own in splendid style, as some statistics published elsewhere show. The products of that region of unsurpassed fertility are bringing yearly millions of dollars into Los Angeles county.

DOLLY VARDEN ESTEE, who could never get anything political for himself—barring a barren nomination—gives all the world to Ah Ben.

A Quarrel Ends in Murder.

HOLLISTER, July 5.—A terrible tragedy occurred this morning at Mulberry, eight miles from here. W. H. Stone, an old farmer, was at work on some land which was claimed by C. H. Waters, when the latter rode up on horseback and a quarrel followed. Hot words were passed and Waters drew a revolver and threatened to shoot Stone. Edward Stone, son of old man Stone, jumped between the men, when Waters fired two shots, one striking young Stone in the face and the other in the hip. Old man Stone at once returned the fire and shot Waters dead. Officers left for the scene when the news reached here.

LATER DETAILS.

A reporter has just returned from the scene of the Waters tragedy. The trouble was over a sixteen acre lot of wheat, sown by Stone on Water's land. Stone went to the field to head it and Waters tried to make him stop. Young Stone was shot by Waters, who then turned upon Stone's father. The latter fired at Waters, who returned the fire. Waters received two balls through the left arm, one entered the left side, and another ball pierced his head and killed him instantly. The elder Stone received a bullet in the left arm, which went through the arm and lodged in the left side, and was extracted near the right nipple. He is not expected to live. Young Stone will probably recover.

Pedagogues Coming.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—The Examiner's New York special says: This evening seventy-three ladies and gentlemen left for a trip to the Golden Gate. The excursion party is under the auspices of the Brooklyn Teachers' Association. They will go slowly, taking eleven days in which to make the trip to San Francisco. The pilgrims to the Golden Gate during their tour across the continent, stop over one day at Niagara Falls, Chicago and Denver, respectively, and two days at Manitou Springs. They will also stop at Salt Lake City and Sacramento one day. They expect to return along the first week in August.

Frank Aglar, of St. Louis, Mo., will start on Saturday next for San Francisco with an excursion party of one hundred people. A special train of eight Pullman cars left to-day, carrying about three hundred teachers bound for the National Convention. They are expected to arrive on the morning of the 16th.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Veto Power Judiciously Exercised.

THE PRESIDENT ON PENSIONS.

The Pension List Should be a Roll of Honor, Not an Alms-Giving Institution.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, July 5.—In the Senate the Conference report on the Agricultural Appropriation bill was presented and explained in detail by Plumb. On one point the Committee had been unable to agree. The disagreement was on the item inserted by the Senator, making an appropriation of $100,000 for continuing experiments in the manufacture of sugar from sorghum. The work heretofore carried on in that direction had been of the greatest possible value; very great progress had been made—so great, in fact, that there were to-day erected and in process of erection in Kansas four large sugar factories, having an aggregate capacity of 5,000,000 pounds, and it was confidentially believed that the work would still further develop the fact that the United States could in a very short period of time supply all the sugar that its people consume.

The conference report was concurred in, and a further conference asked on the sorghum item.

Call offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information as to the improper and unlawful selection of swamp and overflowed lands.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Was received, vetoing the bill granting a pension to Mary Anne Doherty. The President shows the bad character of the woman, and that her husband, on account of whose death a pension was desired, is alive and is himself drawing a pension. The President says he would yield to no man in his desire to see those who defended the Government liberally treated, but the pension list should be a roll of honor, and not a matter of indiscriminate alms-giving. The President refers to the large number of special pension bills before him, and says: "It would be well if all our general pension laws could be revised, with a view of meeting every meritorious case. In the absence of such revision, and if pensions are to be granted upon equitable grounds and without regard to general laws, the present methods would be greatly improved by the establishment of some tribunal to examine the facts in every case, and determine upon the merits of the application."

OTHER VETOES.

The President also returned without his approval the Senate bill to grant a pension to J. B. Morton, of Nebraska, as the dependent father of Calvin Morton, who claimed that his son was killed in battle with the Indians in the Custer massacre. The President says: "His name does not appear in any record of soldiers engaged in that battle, and considering the list of casualities atttending that battle, the death of the son of the beneficiary is far from being satisfactorily established."

The Senate bill to pension Polly H. Smith, widow of Lieutenant J. H. Smith, Second artillery, who served in the army from 1854 to 1870, was also returned witnout Executive approval, on the ground that his death had no connection with the service.

WHEN LEAD ORE IS NOT DUTIABLE.

Senator Edmunds presented to the Senate the report of the Judiciary Committee on laws relating to the importation of lead in gold and silver ores. The Senate, on June 11th, adopted a resolution asking the committee to investigate the subject of importation, free of duty, of lead ore. The committee says that lead ore in its legal and commercial sense is dutiable at 1½ cents per pound, but from examination of papers on the subject referred to the committee, it appears that the question involved is the important one of what are known to the Treasury Department as gold or silver ores. In the case of ores of this character, the committee inclines to the opinion that when they contain more lead than gold or silver in quantity, but more of gold or silver in value, the lead is not subject to duty. Prior to the act of 1883 these ores were known as gold or silver ores and it is to be assumed that Congress knew of this commercial interpretation when the law was enacted.

OTHER BUSINESS.

Senator Call proposed an amendment to the Sundry Civil bill, to appropriate $100,000 for the repair and enlargement of the Salt Lake, Utah Penitentiary.

Senator Turpie, in behalf of the Democrat minority of the Committee on Pensions, to-day presented a minority report, dissenting from the views in regard to the veto power, expressed by Senator Davis in the majority report from the Pensions Committee.

THE HOUSE.

The Senate Land Grant Forfeiture Bill Discussed.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—In the House to-day Jackson, of Pennsylvania, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill to authorize the establishment of a land office at Folsom, New Mexico.

Several important bills were reported and referred, and the House then went into Committee of the Whole on the bill for the settlement of the claims of the State of Florida for expenses incurred in suppressing Indian hostilities. The morning hour having expired, the bill went over without action, and Holman called up the Senate Land Grant Forfeiture bill, with the amendment made by the House Committee, after which substitute amendments were offered as follows: By Stone, of Missouri, to declare a complete forfeiture of the entire grant where the road was not completed in time; by Payson, of Illinois, representing the minority of the committee, to confine forfeitures to the lands opposite the portions of the road not now completed.

Holman explained the nature of the proposition before the House, coming from the Committee, and pointed out the difference in the effect between it and the Senate bill. He said that the Senate bill would declare a forfeiture of 5,627,436 acres, while the pending bill would work a forfeiture of 54,323,996 acres, subject to bona fide sales to settlers. He then went on at length to defend the course of the Democratic party in the matter of granting lands to railroads.

Payson, of Illinois, deprecated what he described as Holman's long political speech. After stating the general rules which had governed Congress in making grants, Payson declared that the dicision of the Supreme Conrt had affirmed the right of the railroad companies to go on with the construction of their lines after the date fixed in the granting acts, in the absence of a prohibiting clause, and as fast as their selections were made, to sell their lands. He was weary of waiting for years for something to be done. Here was an opportunity which should be availed of. Since the last Congress the Northern Pacific had constructed enough road to cloud the title of 3,000,000 acres of land, and the process would go on unless the House accepted the Senate bill.

McRae, of Arkansas—If the Senate, as constituted now, refused to pass the total forfeiture, the House should join the issue and go to the country which would elect a senate to pass such a bill.

Weaver, of Iowa, said the roads had not complied with the terms of their grants, and never would. The people would be justified in reasserting their rights. The first proposition in order was Stone's amendment to make the forfeiture complete as to all lands where the terms of grant had not been complied with.

The amendment was rejected; yeas 60, nays 104.

The question was then put on Parson's minority amendment (similar to the Senate bill). The amendment was rejected; yeas 71, nays 92.

The Committee substitute was then adopted, and the question recurring on the passage of the bill as amended, the vote resulted, yeas 141, nays 12; no quorum.

The Senate bill appropriating $527,000 for establishing seven new quarantine stations was favorably reported to the House to-day by the Committee on Commerce. Three of these are on the Pacific Coast. San Francisco gets $153,000; San Diego, $55,000, and Port Townsend, $55,000.

THE JOHN CURTIN KENT CASE.

Congressman Belmont, Chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, which was instructed by a resolution of the House to investigate the case of John Curtin Kent, a naturalized citizen of the United States, convicted in England of conspiring to murder by the use of dynamite, will submit a report to-morrow. It recites the history of the case in detail and expresses deep sympathy for Kent and continues as follows: "The fact that the naturalization of Kent was not known at the time of his trial to the American authorities, is evidence of the propriety of the recommendation made by President Cleveland, in his message of 1884, and repeated in 1885, in favor of the establishment of a central bureau of the decrees of naturalization granted by the various courts of the United States.

A LOST CAUSE.

O'Donnell Loses His Suit for Libel Against the Times.

LONDON, July 5.—The trial of the libel suit of O'Donnell against the Times was resumed yesterday. Attorney-General Webster read a letter with a view of showing that the League instigated the Phœnix Park murders. Among the letters read by the Attorney-General was one dated October, 1881, written after Parnell's arrest by Egan in Paris, to Jas. Carey, in Dublin. He said: "I have sent M. (Meaning Mullett, who was afterwards sentenced to penal servitude for connection with the Phœnix Park murders,) £200. He will give you what you want. What will you undertake to get the work done. Give us value for our money." The reading of this caused a sensation in court.

Letters were then produced which showed that Mr. Egan supported Carey from his seat in the Municipal Council of Dublin, and a note alleged to be in Mr. Parnell's handwriting and smuggled from Kilmainham, addressed to Egan, saying: "What are these fellows waiting for? Inaction is expedient. Our best men are in prison, nothing has been done. End this hesitancy. Make it hot for old Forster."

Further proof tended to show that Mr. Parnell assisted Byrne to escape, and after the moral guilt of Sheridan, Egan and others had become obvious to everybody, the leaders of the League maintained communication with them and received money for them. Adjourned.

Parnell denies that any of the letters published by the Times in its articles on Parnellism and crime, are authentic.

When the trial was resumed to-day, Ruegg, counsel for O'Donnell, announced that all the charges against the Times would be withdrawn, except in regard to two instances where O'Donnell had been specifically named in the Times articles. After a brief address by Ruegg, Lord Chief Coleridge charged the jury. The charge was strong against O'Donnell. The jury returned a verdict for the Times.

O'Donnell's assertion that his conduct in bringing action against the Times was suggested or arrived at after consultation with Parnell, is authoritatively contradicted. Parnell will be in his place in the Commons to-morrow and will make a personal explanation on the subject.

Egan has sent the following dispatch to La Bouchere respecting the Times libel suit: "The letter introduced by the Times from me to Cary, dated October, 1881, and the letter from Parnell to me are villianous concoctions."

Johnston the Rapid Pacer Lowers The Record — Baseball And Turf.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

SAN DIEGO, July 5.—The "Lurline" crossed the whistling buoy at 5:08 o'clock this morning, the "Aggie" crossed at 5:29. The latter lost her topsail near Point Pedro.

In an interview with Commodore Spreckels, shortly after the yachts "Aggie" and "Lurline" anchored here, he said: "On this trip we had a great deal of wind the first twenty-four hours, but after that we had to depend more on seamanship than wind." The keeper of the log on the "Lurline" said: "The first twenty-four hours we logged 272 miles. The yacht was running like a wolf. She was winged out and it took two of the crew at the wheel to keep her course. After dark it blew a gale of fifty miles an hour at least, and the way we went was a caution. We had a heavy following sea all Sunday night, and it lifted us along. Next morning we were off Monterey Bay, and the Aggie was three-fourths of a mile astern. We beat the Aggie thirty-two minutes."

The new yacht, Charles G. White, which left with them, had not arrived at a late hour this afternoon.

RUSSIAN RUMORS.

Negotiating a Royal Marriage—Why Battenburg Got Left.

LONDON, July 5.—The Standard's correspondent at St. Petersburg says that it is reported a marriage is being arranged between ths Czarevitch and one of Emperor William's sisters. General Von Pape, during his mission here, broached the subject to the Czar, who gave his entire approval. Prince Bismarck is in favor of such a match, and this was his main reason for opposing the Battenburg-Victoria marriage, which would have rendered impossible a match between Victoria's sister and the Czarevitch.

POLITICAL ARENA.

Republican Lights Hugging Delusive Hope.

THEIR GREAT EXPECTATIONS.

The Fable of Patrick and the Bull Forcibly Brought to Mind. Campaign Gossip.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—The concensus of opinion of the members of the Harrison Notification Committee is that the Republican ticket will be elected. M. M. Estee, who was chairman of the Chicago Convention, says that since the Convention he has travelled in Pennsylvania and New York, and the result of his observations is that Harrison and Morton will carry New York. Mr. Wheeler, the New York member of the Committee, says he has talked with many of the leading politicians of New York City since his return from Chicago, and his conclusion is that New York will go for Harrison. Said he:

The issue of protection will be fought squarely out in New York, and there is no doubt that we will win. Thousands of leading business men who have heretofore voted the Democratic ticket will not support its free trade platform of this year, and will vote for Harrison. Mr. Morton's candidacy will help things too. He is known all over the State as an honest, successful business man without any of the disagreeable features that so often attach to rich men. He has never been a stock jobber nor a railroad wrecker and he is respected alike by rich and poor. The Irish vote on which the Democrats count so strongly in New York city will disappoint them. Every Irishman who voted for Blaine last election will vote for Harrison, and thousands besides. Blaine will stump the State for the ticket. The Irishmen know too much about political economy, as administered in England and Ireland, to give the English policy any foothold here, and Mr. Blaine will help them to understand the situation.

M. D. Foley, of Nevada, said:

Morton's nomination will add strength to the ticket. I have been mainly in New York since the Convention, and my opinion is that Mr. Morton's record as a business man will be an important factor in our favor in the campaign. When Morton failed in the panic, through the failure of his customers, he turned over everything to his creditors. This paid them a certain amount of their claims, and when, some years later, Mr. Morton made money he paid every cent of his old indebtedness with interest, although he was legally released from all claims. This is a business honor that is too often lacking, and Mr. Morton's possession of it will raise him in the opinion of business men throughout the country.

Judge Charles W. Clisbee, of Michigan, said:

People who talk about Michigan being a doubtful State, simply don't know the facts. Michigan is absolutely safe for the Republican ticket. The protection plank alone would carry the State, but a large proportion of the prohibition vote will come to us. Another thing, there are thousands of old soldiers in the State who have been Democrats and voted for Cleveland in 1884. Not one-half of them will do so this time. They have had enough of him. They will vote for the old soldier, Ben Harrison.

Mr. Estee, speaking of the prospects in Indiana said: We will carry Indiana certainly. The Democrats, while they keep up a bold front, admit when they speak their real minds that they have very little show. One of their leading men here, an old time, well-known Democrat, told me that he did not think that Cleveland could carry the State against Harrison.

Estee would not name the gentleman he referred to, but the inference was drawn that he meant Senator McDonald.

"We have a ticket we can fight with," said Judge Clisbee, "and such a ticket always get stronger. Blaine will make a tour of the doubtful States and work for the ticket, and this will, it is thought, gain many votes."

DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE CLUBS.

A National Organization Perfected at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 5.—The National Convention of the League of Democratic Clubs met on the Fourth. Charles Ogden, of Nebraska, called the meeting to order and delivered an address. The temporary officers were: Chairman, Wm. E. Russell, of Massachusetts; Secretary, D. N. Carvalho, of New York. A committee was appointed on Resolutions of Sympathy for Phil Sheridan, and adjournment made until to-day.

The second session was held this morning in the Academy of Music. Temporary Chairman Russell called the Convention to order at half past 10 o'clock.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions endorses the St. Louis platform, approves the administration of President Cleveland and his tariff message, expresses joy at the early passage of the Mills bill, and points with pride to the record of Allen G. Thurman. The resolutions adopted were by acclamation amid a perfect storm of cheers.

The Committee on Permanent Organization named Hon. John A. Winans, of Wisconsin, for president of the Convention. On taking the chair Winans briefly addressed the Convention, returning thanks for the high honor conferred on him and stating that the object of the gathering was to devise ways and means to defeat the enemy of our public institutions. Congressman Tarsney, of Michigan, chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, made the report of that committee, and submitted a constitution for the National Association of Democratic Clubs. The plan proposed was for the selection of a president, one vice-president from each State and Territory, one secretary and treasurer. The following names were then recommended for officers of the association: President, Hon. Chauncey F. Black, Pennsylvania; secretary, Edward B. Whitney, of New York; treasurer, Geo. H. Lambert, New Jersey. Recess until 8 P. M.

The constitution states that the object is to foster the formation of permanent Democratic clubs and societies in the United States; to insure active co-operation in the dissemination of Jeffersonian principles of government; to preserve the constitution of the United States and the autonomy of States; to resist revolution, centralization of power and the appropriation of public moneys, other than for the purposes of government economically administered; to oppose commercial restrictions for the benefit of a few at the cost of many. The affairs of the Association are to be managed by a general committee of four from each State and Territory, with the officers of the Association. The convention of the Association shall be held every four years, subsequent to the National Democratic Convention, and a two-thirds vote of the General Committee shall call a special meeting.

The constitution was unanimously adopted. The call of States was made for the selection of Vice-President and members of the General Committee, and the selections were ratified by the Convention.

Mr. Flattery, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution declaring that the Convention of Democratic Clubs protests against tyranny and oppression wherever they exist, declaring further that it is in favor of the success of the Irish race for home rule in Ireland. The resolution was adopted amid applause. The Committee on Resolutions was then called upon and the Chairman reported that the majority did not think it to be expedient to report on the Chinese resolution of the St. Louis platform. It was stated that there was a minority report on the Chinese resolution. Willis, of Kentucky moved the adoption of the majority report. It was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Schley, of Wisconsin, it was ordered that the officers of this organization be commissioned to call upon President Cleveland and Judge Thurman, and pledge to them its hearty support in the impending campaign. A resolution commending the re-election of Hon. W. H. Barnum as chairman of the National Committee was adopted. After passing a number of votes of thanks, and giving three cheers for Chairman Winans as the next Governor of Wisconsin, the Convention adjourned sine die.

The following Californians were selected by the National Association of Democratic clubs, on behalf of that State: For Vice President for California, R. P. Hastings; General committeemen, Max Popper, Reel B. Terry, John A. Steinbach and Sam Braugart.

LOYAL WORDS.

Fitzhugh Lee Addresses the Democrats of Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 5.—A Democratic mass meeting was held in the Academy of Music to-night, which was largely attended. Among the prominent guests of the evening were Governor Jackson, Governor Fitzhugh Lee, Representative W. C. P. Breckenridge, Senator Reagan and others. Gov. Lee alluded to the proceedings of the Convention, and congratulated the Democrats before him on not having to contend with the great question as to the right of a State to withdraw from the Union. The decision of that question has been left to the sword and by the sword the question had been decided, and to-day Virginia joined all the other States of the Union in the single desire to promote the glory and grandeur and growth of the American Republic. [Applause.] He eulogized the public actions of President Cleveland, and at the mention of the President's name the large audience broke into applause, which was repeated whenever reference was made to the action of the St. Louis Convention, in making stronger a strong ticket by the selection of the Noble Roman for the Vice-Presidency. The name of General Robt. E. Lee, as it fell from the lips of his relative was received with tumultuous applause. He said the Government was not stained with treason as charged by John Sherman, for General Lee had fought as others had fought for what he thought to be his constitutional privileges and rights. Referring to the tariff issue he denounced as untrue the charges that the Democratic party was a free trade party, and declared the Mills bill was the embodiment of the Democratic doctrine of protection to the many, not the enrichment of the few.

Gov. Lee was followed by District Attorney John R. Fellows, of New York, and Congressman Breckinridge.

PIXLEY'S PARTY.

The Convention Nominates Abram S. Hewitt for President.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—The second day's session of the American Party opened to-day. Little was done besides the adoption of the reports of Committees on Credentials and Permanent Organization. P. D. Wigginton was elected Permanent Chairman. The Convention took a recess till this afternoon.

At the afternoon session delegates-at-large to the National Convention were elected as follows: P. D. Wigginton, Frank M. Pixley, Victor J. Robertson and Alfred Daggett.

The following district delegates were elected:

First District—E. Hall, of Mendocino county; W. Page, of Sonoma.

Second District—N. A. Warr, San Joaquin; J. S. McSwain, Merced.

Third District—J. M. Barrett, city; G. W. Grayson, Alameda.

Fourth District—N. S. Keith, L. A. Garnett, city.

Fifth District—N. P. Cole, Capt. A. F. Spear, city.

Sixth District—C. N. Wilson, Los Angeles; Dr. L. S. Rogers, Bakersfield.

P. D. Wigginton and Frank M. Pixley were chosen as electors at large. At the close of nominations a resolution was adopted pledging the support of the Convention to Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, if he will accept the nomination for President.

A platform was then adopted, it being materially the same as that adopted two years ago. The Convention then adjourned sine die.

A Letter of Regret.

NEW YORK, July 5.—President Cleveland's response to the invitation to attend the Gettysburg reunion, which did not reach the office of the Secretary until after his departure for Gettysburg, is as follows:

"I need hardly assure you I should be glad to be present on this very interesting occasion. In view, however, of my confining duties here, and all the circumstances surrounding the subject, I have arrived at the conclusion that I ought not to leave here at the time designated. The meeting of the survivors of Gettysburg upon the field where they fought twenty-five years ago cannot fail to teach an impressive lesson and convince all our people that bravery is akin to magnanimity, while it reminds them that the object of war is the attainment of peace."

Kansas Democrats.

LEAVENWORTH Kansas, July 6.—The Democratic State Convention began here on the 4th. Committees were appointed and recess taken till evening. At midnight the Convention was still in session. Judge Martin was nominated for Governor on practically the same platform as that of two years ago.

BEYOND THE ROCKIES.

Timely Discovery of a Dynamite Plot.

"Q" STRIKERS IN A NEW ROLE.

Terrible Storms in the Hudson Valley and the Hawkeye State. Eastern Echoes.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

CHICAGO, July 5.—Thomas T. Broderick and J. Bowles, members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a man named Wilson, were arrested on a C., B. & Q. railroad train, near Aurora, this afternoon. They had dynamite in their possession, and are charged with conspiring to destroy the company's property. They are in the county jail, each under bonds of $5000. It is stated that the Burlington company has had a large force of detectives for some time watching the movements of the strikers. It was discovered that dynamite was used in several unsuccessful attempts to wreck trains within the past month. The officials of the road state that positive information was received that to-day was the day chosen for an attack on the company's property. The officials are reticent regarding the sources of their information, but the plot is known to them and they admit, that besides the definite plan to blow up trains upon the tracks by means of dynamite cartridges, that it included probabilities of an attack upon depot property and the magnificent office buildings here. The officials say that had the danger not been imminent they would have allowed the conspirators to go on and criminate themselves further, but the plot had reached a stage where it was necessary to take decisive steps to prevent great destruction of property, not to say loss of life.

When the men were arrested to-day, one of them took from his pocket a letter and threw it out of the window. The train was stopped and the letter found. It is now in the hands of District Attorney Ewing. He refuses to reveal its contents, but General Manager Stone, intimated that it gave important information regarding the plot. The men appeared greatly agitated when arrested and arraigned in the United States Commissioners office here, and demanded Chairman Hoge be sent for. When he arrived they recognized him at once, but he claimed not to know them. The detectives found on a seat in the train when they arrested the three men, several sticks of dynamite, and on opening a valise found a number of dynamite cartridges. The men disclaim all knowledge of this property and say it don't belong to them. One of them was very much agitated, while the others were more composed. Neither of the three would tell their place of residence. They have been traveling about the "Q." system for a number of weeks.

District Attorney Ewing arraigned the men under the Section 5253, United States Revised Statutes, which relates to the carrying of high explosives on passenger trains. It is supposed this charge has been brought temporarily until the "Q" officials can perfect their case. Commissioner Hoyne held them in $5000 bonds each for examination on the 13th. Hoge and Vice Grand Master Hannahans, of the Firemans Brotherhood, informed the men they could do nothing for them to-night, and they were sent to jail. General Manager Stone, of the Burlington, when interviewed, would not tell more than what has been given above, but said he believed high officials of the Brotherhood are connected with the conspiracy.

"I don't know of those men," said Chairman Hoge to a reporter. "They may be members of the Brotherhood. I don't remember them. If their case is found worthy of investigation we will help them and get them bail."

On Broderick's person was found a membership card, declaring him a member of the Pottsville Division No. 90. Broderick and Wilson had just come on Creston, Iowa, where they were closely identified with the strikers. Wilson is supposed to be a striking foreman.

Storm Ravages.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 5.—A furious rain, hail and wind storm passed over Albany at 2:30 P. M. to-day. Three great rain clouds appeared to meet directly over the city. Trees were blown down, yachts were wrecked in the river, awning were ripped down and telephone wires were twisted and crossed. During the storm a circus tent collapsed.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 5.—This section of the country was visited by a very severe wind and rain storm this afternoon. Great damage was done to crops and buildings. The Pennsylvania round-house at Millstone Junction was blown down. James Barry, Hugh Geary and John White, three ball-players who were taking shelter from a storm, were buried in the ruins and severely injured. A barn on Geo. Plumby's farm near Middlebush was also blown down. Plumby is reported killed. A dwelling and two buildings on the farm were wrecked. Terrible damage is reported everywhere hereabouts from wind and lightning; also at Middleburg and Millstone.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 5.—During a terrible storm here this afternoon the new uncompleted Catholic Church was blown down.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 5.—The severest wind, hail, rain, thunder and lightning storm experienced in this city for many years prevailed this afternoon. Bartholomew Reagan and John Armstrong were struck by lightning and killed.

The Iowa Storm.

CHICAGO, July 5.—A Times special from Mason City, Iowa, says: A terribly devastating cyclone swept down yesterday upon a number of towns on the Chicago, Milwauke and St. Paul railroad, and it is impossible at present to estimate the damage done. The extent of territory over which the storm swept was about one hundred miles in length and nearly a mile in width. To the farming community the loss is severe. No deaths have yet been reported, but the loss in horses and cattle is enormous. At Ruthven two mammoth barns were demolished, and a thousand pound hay press was carried several feet and overturned. An agricultural implement house was wrecked. Triph Bros'. livery stables, the Kirkwood Hotel, M. E. Church and the dwelling of Thos. Griffith were leveled to the ground. At Emmetsburg the Catholic Church, railroad depot and a number of residences were destroyed. The farming country between Whitmore and Ruthven is badly devastated. All the corn crops have been laid to the ground, and other grain is totally destroyed. At Bellmont the railroad depot and a number of business houses and residences were torn down.

WATERLOO, Ia., July 5.—A terrific wind and rain storm through Cedar Valley yesterday did great damage to grain. It was the fiercest storm known in this section for over ten years. At Cedar Falls the canning factory was unroofed, also the opera house and numerous other buildings. Eighteen houses and barns were partially or entirely demolished within seven miles of Cedar Falls.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., July 5.—The storm in this vicinity did no other damage than to level the oats. The loss will probably be 50 per cent of the entire crop.

Reports from different parts of Iowa show that the last storm was heavy and severe. Several houses were struck by lightning, but no lives were lost. The storm was very severe along the line of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, washouts being so numerous that no trains reached Des Moines over the "Q." on Thursday.

At Oil City, Pennsylvania, leaking gasoline from the Union Refinery spread out on the river, and was ignited in some manner. Two boys playing on the bank of the river were fatally burned. They were about two hundred feet from the shore when the boat capsized and its occupants were thrown into the water and drowned before assistance could be rendered.

FOURTH OF JULY ECHOES.

Widespread Storms in the Northwest.

ACCIDENTS AT CELEBRATIONS.

The Old Independence Bell Made to Vibrate and Proclaim Liberty to all the Land.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

CHICAGO, July 5.—An almost total paralysis of the telegraphic service west of Chicago to-day indicates, apparently, that the storms of the past few days, culminating last night, were most widespread and the severest experienced in a number of years. A great net work of wires covers the territory stretching to the Rocky Mountains, but so few of the hundreds of lines running in all directions were to-day in anything like a workable condition, that business with points west of here was comparatively at a stand still. The winds and rains that began sweeping over the West Saturday had, until last night, their worst effects apparently confined to the territory close to this city. Yesterday the Western Union had virtually remedied the trouble, when last evening the storms seemed to have broken out with redoubled fury, and played havoc over the entire West.

THE OLD LIBERTY BELL.

Its Iron Tongue Made To Speak on Independence Day.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—Independence Day was celebrated in an extravagant manner under the direction of a Citizen's Committee, which raised a popular subscription of nearly $15,000 for the purpose. At sunrise the Keystone battery fired a single salute, and shortly after a trombone band, stationed in the tower of the Independence Hall, sent forth patriotic music. At 9 o'clock the first brigade of the Pennsylvania militia paraded the principal streets and were reviewed at Independence Hall by Major-General Hartranft. The oration was delivered by General Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut. At the close of the ceremonies the old Independence bell was rung 112 times.

KILLED IN THE WHIRLPOOL.

Flack Backed by an Undertaker Who takes His Remains.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 5. — Robert Flack, of Syracuse, who came here last week to go through the Rapids whirlpool, was drowned last evening while attempting to navigate his life boat, the "Phantom," in the whirlpool. Flack thought to advertise himself and his boat by the trip. He started from the "Maid of the Mist," landing above the old suspension bridge, and in two minutes was battling with the big waves below the cantilever bridge. His boat was overturned twice but was turned right side up again. The third time she went over and sailed bottom up, floating past the Devereaux College grounds, where stood Flack's rival, Percy and William Stephenson and wife, and Flack's sister. Nothing but the keel was visible as the boat rushed into the whirlpool. Here it drifted about the eddies until it came near the shore. Flack was still strapped in his seat, his face purple with congestion, and stone dead. A Syracuse undertaker named McCarthy, who is said to have been backing Flack, took the corpse home to Flack's widow and children.

The Fourth in London.

LONDON, July 5.—The Americans in the city generally took part in unusually numerous and successful Fourth of July gatherings. The stars and stripes were seen everywhere. Mrs. Phelps, the wife of the American Minister, gave an "at home" at her residence in Lowdes Square. The rooms were superbly decorated with ferns and flowers. Portraits of Washington and Cleveland draped with the stars and stripes hung on the walls. About six hundred visitors were present, including many distinguished foreigners. Lady Salisbury had a reception at the Foreign Office in the evening, which Minister Phelps attended after a banquet at the American Club.

Fourth of July Casualities.

Wilbur Fulton was seriously, perhaps fattally, wounded by the accidental discharge of a pistol he was flourishing while intoxicated.

At Kilbourne, Wisconsin, during the sham battle that took place in the celebration, I. W. Carpenter was killed, and C. H. Foot seriously injured, by the premature discharge of a cannon.

Lightning struck the frame house of Ole Olestal, ten miles north of Hunter, Dak., killing Olestal and his wife. Olestal had sent for his father and mother only a few months previous, and they arrived from Norway just in time to participate at the funeral.

At Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the celebration was summarily stopped by a threatened cyclone. A panic ensued and 5000 people were in pandemonium. The steps to the Milwaukee bridge broke down, injuring a number, though none fatally. The cyclone proved to be only a rainstorm.

While 300 or 400 people were seated in the grand stand on the grounds of Vallbusha county, Miss., Fair Association, the support gave way without warning and the structure fell to the ground. No one was killed outright, but nearly fifty people were taken from the ruins with broken arms and limbs, bruised bodies almost every conceivable wound. Some of the wounded, it is thought, cannot live.

At Willow Camp, Bolinas, Frank Gallagher, on employee of O'Connor, Moffatt & Co , was drowned at the beach on the afternoon of the Fourth. Gallagher and his brother and a friend had gone in bathing, when suddenly Gallagher was seen to throw up his hands, and with a shriek, sunk. There was a heavy swell on at the time and his companions could render him no assistance. His body has not been recovered.

During the Fourth of July celebration at Water Valley, Miss., the grand stand, upon which about 400 people were seated, gave way and fell with a crash, burying men, women and children in the ruins. Great excitement and confusion followed, but the imprisoned victims were rescued as soon as possible. About fifty persons had arms and legs broken, and received more or less severe injuries. No one was killed outright, but it is believed several of the wounded cannot recover.

A FIERCE CONFLAGRATION.

Marysville's Best Business Blocks Destroyed by Fire.

MARYSVILLE, July 4.—A disastrous fire broke out here early this morning, and at 3 o'clock was raging in a block bounded by Second, Third, D and E streets in which the most valuable business houses in the city are located. The fire was the most terrible that has visited the city for years, and the loss exceeds that of last September by over $50,000. Every building in the block with two exceptions was completely destroyed, only the walls remaining, and in many instances they have fallen.

The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock issuing from the workshop of Frost & Staffer's furniture store. The fire department was unable to stop the progress of the flames. Owing to the high wind and dry wood roofs, it soon became evident that it was useless to try to save the buildings in the block, and attention was directed toward keeping the fire from crossing the street, which was accomplished with difficulty. The fire raged two hours before it began to diminish in volume.

Following are the real estate losers and the estimates of their losses, which are as near as will be ascertained for several days:

W. T. Ellis & Co., $42,500; C. A. Glidden, $10,000; C. J. Ripley, $22 000; J. Emmil, $8,000; J. R. Garrett, $3,000; F. W. H. Aaron, $7,000; E. E. Meek, $3,000; Mrs. E. C. Ross, $4,000; Mrs. Charles Bommatler, $2,500; Charles Binney, $2,500; L. C. Crane, $2,500.

Following are the principal losses on stock and household effects:

W. Pierson, $4,000; Frost & Shaffer, $40,000; A. P. Barnes, $1,500; A. B. Hopkins, $3.5000; Great American Tea Company, $1,500; S. Duke, $4,000.

Among the smaller losses are: Robinson Bros., T. J. Powers, Western Union Office, F. J. Tomb, N. J. Seiger, Moses, Casebolt & Reynolds, R. O. Cunningham, Mrs. Brittain, John Syfert and many others, whose losses are less than $500 each. The total will go close to $176,000, with an estimated insurance of $90,000.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT.

The Chicago Market Glutted With Bartletts.

CHICAGO, July 5.—On the 4th of July there was no auction sale of California fruit here, but the sales for Monday, Tuesday and to-day have aggregated twenty cars, of which sixteen were green Bartlett pears, the bulk of which were too green for immediate use and had to be stored by buyers. This great quantity of pears coming into the market upon the heels of the heavy shipments of last week, has depressed prices so that pears were selling to-day at from $2.05 to $2.15 per box. It is hoped that the supplies can be better regulated so that this market will receive all the fruit it can bear, but no more. Prices realized for other fruits were very satisfactory, Hale's early peaches selling at $1.30 to $1.35; early Crawford peaches, $2.25; and purple Duane plums, $1.85 to $2.25.

Cable Flashes.

An expedition is being planned at Berlin for the relief of Emin Bey.

The Pan Presbyterian Council opened its session at London on the 4th of July, with Lord Cairnes presiding. Many delegates from America were present.

At a meeting of the Liberal Unionist members of Parliament Earl Derby was elected leader in the House of Lords. Earl Camperdown is the leader of the Whigs.

The United States war-ship, Enterprise, ran on the mole of Dreebak, near Christiania, Norway, colliding with great force. One hundred tons of coal had to be discharged, and the guns shifted off in order to lighten her stern.

The motion expressing confidence in the government, which was adopted by the French Chamber of Deputies, was carried by a vote of 270 to 157. The newspapers agree that the vote signified the Cabinet's position until the Chambers reassemble in October. Several of the papers regard the vote as a fatal blow to the Opposionnists. In the future they say the struggle will be confined to the Radicals and Conservatives.

J. A. WILLIAMS, M. D.,

Late of Grand Rapids, Michigan, the noted Specialist in all forms of Female Complaints, who has made a specialty in these diseases for the past thirteen years.

HOLLENBECK BLOCK,

Cor. Second and Spring Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved Medical Inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies, for the liver stomach, blood, etc. We are also now using the Compound Oxygen treatment which has such a world-wide reputation in lung and nervous affections.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Over 80,000 cases treated during the past twenty-one years.

CATARRH.

The term Catarrh is applied to a peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent, and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic feature is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times. In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent, or muco-purulent, greenish-yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their whole head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward, his rest is frequently disurbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others, a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgement embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve the discomfort by drawing the mucus into the throat, so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustrations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produces serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities, and then putrifies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fullness, heat, irritation, soreness, or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate.

Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and occasionally pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted, and at times assumes an exceedingly fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and congested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasioning violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the throat, and frequent attempts to clear the parts of phlegm, producing the sound "hem," more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others, again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less, and becomes weak and irritable, the appetite is capricious, and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucuous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that a breath of wind upon the linings of the nose or throat, becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse, and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larnyx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalations and Compound Oxygen treatment in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the larnyx and the nasal passages, for air will find its way into the remotest and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance from business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

HOW MANY WAYS CAN THIS BE READ?

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD IS BY ALL ACKNOWLEDGED have been the prime factor in the discovery and making known of the resources of this section. To its sagacious outgivings more than to any other agency our marvelous development is attributed.

THE HERALD has from its inception watched with a single eye the budding industries of this portion of the State. For each good enterprise this journal has at all times had a word of cheerful encouragement. In spite o the skeptical, it has survived to see all of its earlier predictions fullfilled to the letter.

THE HERALD to-day takes the lead in all respects among the papers of Southern California. Its first care still is the material, intellectual and social interests of its section. It aims to be truthful rather than over-zealous in its publication of news; to be conservative rather than over-sensational, in its policy; to be clean and decent, respecting the sacred precincts of the home and fireside, rather than indecently salacious in its tone.

THE HERALD gets all the news from all quarters of the globe with promptness accuracy and dispatch. Its local staff is energetic and well-trained to miss nothing of real importance to its readers. It is always alive to all public enterprises.

THE HERALD still takes pride in aiding any legitimate material, intellectual or social movement which will benefit the people. No other journal in this section approaches it in those important respects.

The Hemet Land Company, principal place of business, Baker Block, room 28, Los Angeles California.

Whereas, an assessment of one dollar per share on the assessable capital stock of this company was duly levied on the fourth day of May, 1888, and, whereas, the publication of the notice of such assessment, and of the time when it would be payable and when it became delinquent, and the date of the sale of delinquent stock, was not properly made, and there was a substantial error in the course of the proceedings for the collection of the same, whereby all the proceedings, except the levy of the assessment, became void; and, whereas, the Board of Directors made an order making the said assessment payable to E. F. Spence, the Treasurer of the Company, at the First National Bank of Los Angeles, at Los Angeles city, on or before the 6th day of August, 1888, and also fixing the 15th day of August, 1888, as the day on which all assessments unpaid should become delinquent, and the 5th day of September, 1888, as the day of sale of delinquent stock. Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Directors held on the 4th day of May, 1888, an assessment of one dollar per share was levied upon the assessable capital stock of the corporation, and said assessment is payable on or before the 6th day of August, 1888, to E. F. Spence, the Treasurer of the Company, at the First National Bank of Los Angeles, at Los Angeles city, State of California. Officer McGrath found the woman in her house, at the corner of Apalosa and Alameda streets, soliciting custom from the Mongols. A Chinaman who was found with her was also arrested.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Reopening of the Grand Opera House.

Next Monday the Grand Opera House will be reopened and Manager Wyatt has secured for the week Denman Thompson, who will play The Old Homestead, of which the New York Telegram speaks as follows:

A more charming play than The Old Homestead, presented last night for the first time in this city by Mr. Denman Thompson and his clever company, has not been seen in this city for a long time. There was a delightful flavor of rural life and honesty about it which filled the large audience in the theatre with a pleasant feeling of joy and good nature.

Pyke's "Pinafore."

The revival of Gilbert and Sullivan's witty and pretty comic opera, H. M. S. Pinafore, by the Pyke Company, was witnessed by a good andience last night. It was, of course, a success, as it has been wherever produced, and it lost none of its merits at the hands of the troupe who delineated it. Mr. Pyke made an excellent "Captain Corcoran," and sang and acted with great spirit, as did also Mr. Cornell, who made good use of his lines as "Sir Joseph." Mr. Gates sustained his reputation as "Ralph Rackstraw," and Messrs. Rochester, Clark and Colby did some good work in their respective parts. Miss Louise Manfred made a very fascinating "Josephine," and well earned the plaudits which greeted her efforts. As "Buttercup," Miss Moore scored a success, and Miss Atkinson looked very charming in the role of "Hebe." The chorus sang well, as it does on all occasions.

The Philharmonic Society.

To-night the Philharmonic Society will meet at Bancroft Hall, on Main street. The society, to which belong nearly two hundred of the musical people of Los Angeles, is preparing to give the friends of its members some of the best music this season. Four concerts have been laid out, and the large chorus and orchestra are rehearsing for the first concert, the programme of which will be announced later.

A HAPPY TRIO.

The Police Commissioners Are United on Routine Business.

The Board of Police Commissioners met yesterday afternoon with a full complement and Mayor Workman in the chair. It was expected that a lively time would occur over substitution of new officers for the old ones on the force. Whatever was germane in the mind of Judge Humphreys on the subject did not come to the surface and Chief Cuddy was not called upon to protect his faithful followers. Serenity was the condition of affairs, and the worthy Commissioners disposed of the routine matters which came before them, in a spirit of sweet accord. No man knows how the wind will list at next week's meeting and the apparant tranquillity of the moral triad may be but the precusor of give and take, as the calm precedes the storm.

The session was opened by the presentation of a bond by the Los Angeles Construction Company to cover what damage might be done by their blasting, and asked that they be given a permit to go ahead with their work. A protest was presented by the property owners on Orange and Ingraham streets, asking that no permit be given, as the work could be done without the use of explosives. The Mayor read the ordinance passed at the last session of the Council, and then one of the contractors stated his side of the case. After a little discussion the Board resolved to visit the scene of the work, and in the meantime the contractors be permitted to go on with the work.

The case of Calvin & Coburn, asking for a saloon license for a bar in the basement of the Pavilion was taken up and Calvin & Coburn were represented by Judge C. C. Stephens. Petitions were received pro and con and the Commissioners were decidedly in favor of granting the license. They were held back by Ordinance 377, and while they thought they had construed it wrongly they had acted upon such a construction without legal advising and were confronted with a dilemma. Solons no longer, they agreed to leave the construction of the perplexing ordinance to the legal exemplification of Col. John S. Chapman. Without doubt, hereafter thirsty patrons of the Pavilion may "see a man" between the acts without losing the uprising of the curtain because of the journey to Main or Olive streets in search of the ever-joyful.

Robert Stadie and brother wants a license for a saloon at 125 South Main street and have been working for it for two months. They came reinforced by the Bishop's assent, to which Chief Cuddy was obdurate, and the end was that the Stadies have another week to wonder as did Plato if it is "to be or not to be."

It was granted that H. Gieschen, of Alameda street, should run the saloon there in place of one Garske; that H. Engert, of First and Vine streets, should supplant Brown. John Riber's application to continue Koller & Engert's business was postponed, while Williams Brothers was allowed to continue the business of Nicolas Trioste. John Rowell was denied the privilege of carrying on the whiskey business at 501 East First street, and action upon the applications of John Zetler of 17 San Pedro street, Martel & Co. of 141 Upper Main, and D. Rose of 141 South Main, was postponed for one week.

A petition from the residents of Grand Avenue was presented protesting against the avenue being turned into a race track for the benefit of a few sports. The Commissioners thought that speeding horses over the Avenue was a pleasant amusement, but ordered Chief Cuddy to ascertain the expression of the residents between York and Jefferson Streets.

C. S. Cruz sent in a communication asking that James Methvin and Santiago Arguello, members of the force, be suspended for assault upon him. The trial of said officers on the charge of Cruz was set for 2 o'clock Thursday next. Following this complaint came a charge of indebtedness against Arguello, made by Wm. M. Osborne, and a charge by A. J. Ellis, of 107 South Main street, that Arguello was a bully and had brutally treated Ellis. The investigation of these various charges will also take place on Thursday next, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Ott did not appear against Officer Murphy, and after hearing the testimony of Officer Walsh regarding the matter, the Commission dismissed the case against Murphy. That officer was present and thanked the Commission with a smile a mile broad.

Officer Weatherman was brought up to the target by Hamlin R. Brown for a revolver and whistle he owed that gentleman for. He will toot the ivory on Thursday next by order of the Board.

The usual uninteresting reports were received from Sergeants Harris and Davis.

Thos. McCann, C. W. Whitney, Henry O. Chappalear, Michael C. Auble made application for positions on the force. The Board then adjourned.

May the Curse of Cromwell Light On Them!

EDITORS HERALD—"Major John Harrison, an ancestor of General Benjamin Harrison, was one of Oliver Cromwell's most trusted men 248 years ago," says the Tribune on the eve of our Glorious Fourth.

Doubtless Major John directed the massacre of the 1,500 men, women and children in the town of Wexford, Ireland, as he was one of pious Oliver's most trusted men.

That the "Curse of Cromwell" may light on the man that has the most remote drop of Irish blood in his veins, that will vote for the pro-Chinese Hoosier, is the sincere prayer of an Irish mother whose ancestors were butchered by the copper-nosed fiend.

AN IRISH MOTHER.

Los Angeles, July 4, 1888.

A Fine Counterfeit Presentiment.

In one of the art store windows on Spring street may be seen a perfect counterfeit presentiment of gallant and courteous General Nelson A. Miles. The artist has done the subject exceeding justice. The brave General stands forth in life-like reality on the canvas. It is the cynosure of a thousand eyes as the public walk on their way along the street, to gaze with satisfaction on the noble lineaments of a man whom all Angelefios delight to honor.

Undelivered Telegrams.

Undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office, No. 8 Court street, at 10 P. M., July 5th: Jas. Hibbard, T. W. Blackburn, W. L. Hallock, A. J. Veil, L. L. Evans, Miss Ella Tarr, Miss Julia Graves, C. L. Hanson, John How, S. E. Hawd.

A Notable Race.

After the result of the mile dash at Ventura yesterday Mr. P. Dornaleck, being dissatisfied with the result of the race, offers to match his horse Del against the winner, Consuelo, to run a mile at the Santa Barbara track for $1,000 a side. Señor E. R. Den immediately accepted the challenge. Each gentleman placed $2500 forfeit in the hands of Mr. N. A. Covarrubias, of this city, to bind the match. The race is to be run on the 2d of August, and as both are exceedingly speedy animals, will excite widespread interest throughout the sporting world, especially as the stakes at issue are of a magnitude not often seen now-a-days in a match race.

The Horrible Fund.

The Financial Committee of the Horribles will meet this evening at E. C. Burlingame's office on New High street, between Franklin and Temple, by order of A. A. Adams, Chairman, and Chas. E. Atwood, Secretary. A full attendance is necessary.
